The Quick Sell: Winter spices and piney hops partner with the caramel malt for a hopeful experience.

After a tumultuous 2020 - COVID-19, shutdowns, restrictions, heated election cycle, civil unrest - we enter 2021 with hope for a better year, for everyone. We, like many, yearn for a return to normalcy for our children and schools, for our small businesses, for being able to gather in positive ways, to be able to go to a concert. We also want to see positive change, a return to the basics (wash your hands!), and genuine equity and equality for all. We brew beer and have decided that the Winter of 2020/21 will give way to a time of rebirth, regeneration, and revival in the Spring of 2021. So, we toast the end of 2020 with A New Hope Spiced Winter Ale. The spices, maltiness, and piney hops put together so many aspects that come together as one to create a damn fine beer in such a way that we can only hope that we, our community, country, and society, can do the same thing.

Food Pairings: Poultry, Roasted pork, chocolate desserts, Christmas cookies (all of them!)
